Seminar program

Better data for better policies; A global perspective

November 27, 2023, 13:00 - 17:00

Brussels, Quebec Office

Organized by:

International Network for Governmental Science Advice

STEPPS
Strengthening & Transferring Evidence for Policies & Politics Society

Québec

PROGRAM

Quebec Office
Rue de Chatelain 32, Brussels

13.00h	Registration
13.30	Part 1: Structuring the use of data for evidence based policy Chair: Rémi Quirion, President of INGSA
	Introduction by the Chair
13.35	Nick Hart, President of the US Data Foundation, USA Data strategies for the US Evidence Based Policy Act
13.55	Barbara Ubaldi , Head of the Division on Open and Innovative Governments OECD New insights on the conditions for structured data-driven policymaking
14.15	Bram Klievink, Professor Digitalisation and Public Policy, Leiden University, the Netherlands Between techno-optimism and normative-pessimism; a plea for policy-realism
14.35	Discussion on current challenges and global cooperation
14.50h	Break
15.10	Part 2: Responsible algorithms for better policies and democracy Chair: Frank Zwetsloot, CEO of ScienceWorks and founder of STEPPS
	Introduction by the chair
15.15	David Budtz Pedersen, Knowledge Broker for Algorithms, Data & Democracy, Denmark AI as a critical infrastructure for evidence-informed policymaking?
15.35	Chris Tyler, Director of Public Policy, UCL, UK Conditions for a constructive approach of AI in a public environment
15.55	Cornelia Kutterer, AI Lead, University of Grenoble and former PA-expert Microsoft Brussels Public private cooperation for a responsible use of algortithms in policymaking
16.15	Discusing a global INGSA working group on AI and Government Science Advice
16.45	Concluding remarks and future agenda's of STEPPS and INGSA
	Rémi Quirion, President of INGSA & Frank Zwetsloot, Founder of the STEPPS Network
17.00	Reception