2. Study administration: A list of any study administration tasks, e.g. study board membership, head of studies or semester or course coordinator, accreditation, etc.

I took part in the accreditation of the Ma. in Criminology. From January 2013 to November 2013, I was responsible for starting up the teaching program. This is the first and to this date only Ma. in Criminology in Denmark. Hereafter I was appointed as chairperson of the study board until March 2015 (where I left the position to become head of school). In Aalborg University's organizational setup, the chairman of the study board is responsible for administration and daily management of specific educations. I have in other words been primarily responsible for starting, running, and developing Denmark's only Ma. in Criminology, including recruitment of staff and the creating of a viable student social milieu. The Ma. in Criminology is today a successful, popular and very sought-after education. From March 2015 to March 2017, I was appointed Head of school of Sociology and Social Work. In this capacity I had the overall leadership and administrative responsibility for all 10 educations on the Department of Sociology and Social Work. I was responsible for implementing the school structure at the department, responsible for the budgets of the respective educations (including Sociology, Criminology, Social Work, and the Ma. in Social Work). The total number of students amounted to slightly over 1600 in 2016. As head of school, I had the overall economic responsibility for the distribution and usage of resources within and across the respective educations, optimal usage of teaching staff, as well as dialogue and synergies between educations. I was also in charge of the process of re-accrediting the Ma. in Social Work. In addition, the position involves a lot of informal work regarding relations between colleagues, solving conflicts etc. I was also in charge of the successful implementation of Aalborg University's internal quality system, which was central during the phase of Institutional Accreditation in 2018. I left the position as head of school at my own initiative to be able to concentrate more on research. My study management experience is listed below: Major management tasks •Jan. 2013 – Nov. 2013: Coordinator for the implementation of Ma. in Criminology, Aalborg University. •Nov. 2013 – Mar. 2015: Head of the study board, Ma. in Criminology, Aalborg University. •Mar. 2015 – Mar. 2017: Head of School of Sociology and Social Work, Aalborg University. Semester Coordination I have coordinated semesters on the Sociology education, and on the Ma. in Criminology. The task as semester coordinator includes planning lecture time schedules, facilitating the creation of project groups and evaluation of the semesters. I have coordinated the following modules and semesters: Ma. in Criminology: •1st semester: Indføring i kriminologien. •2nd semester: Kriminologien i samfundet. Sociology: •4th semester: Kulturanalyse og Hverdagsliv. •9th semester: Specialization in Sociale Problemer og Social Kontrol. •8thth semester: Theme specialisation in Køn, migration og sociale protester.

3. University pedagogy qualifications: A list of any completed courses in university pedagogy, PBL courses, workshops, academic development projects, collegial guidance and supervision, etc.

I have completed the University pedagogy course/Adjunktpædagogikum and additional courses: •Oct. 2007 – Jan. 2009: University pedagogy course/Adjunktpædagogikum. •Nov. 2013: PhD supervisor course, Quality in researcher education – supervision between control and process [Kvalitet i forskeruddannelse – vejledning mellem styring og proces] PhD school of Social Science, Aalborg University. •14 & 28 Nov. 2019: PhD supervisor course, Supervision to a high level and high wellbeing – can this be improved? [Vejledning til høj faglighed og høj trivsel – kan det forenes?] PhD school of Social Science, Aalborg University.

4. Other qualifications: Conference attendance, editorials, presentations, etc. relating to education, 'University Teaching Day', etc.

5. Teaching activity development and teaching materials: A list of any contributions to the development of new modules, teaching materials, study programmes, e-learning, collaboration with external business partners, etc.

As part of my responsibility for implementing the Ma. in Criminology I have been in charge of developing the teaching program on this education, this involved all 4 semesters (7 modules in total); •1st semester Introduction to Criminology/Indføring i kriminologien. •2nd semester Criminology in the Society/Kriminologien i samfundet. •3rd semester Problem based internship and methodology course/Problemorienteret forløb og metodevalg. •4th semester Ma. Thesis/Kandidatspeciale. The work around developing and implementing the Ma. in Criminology involved scientific content, exam forms, involvement of students in the study board, and the daily social life around the education. This also included extensive cooperation with external partners in three areas: 1.Coordination with other educations on and outside AAU, because the students as a standard obtain an elective course on another education. 2.It has been necessary to develop contact with and cooperation with internship hosts, as the education was new and had no established internship partners. 3.I have, in dialogue with head of School, Anders Petersen, build up the employer panel of the education. In relation to the reorganization of the Ma. degree in Sociology, I have, in cooperation with Ann-Dorte Christensen developed the subject specialization module 'Køn, migration og sociale protester', which is placed on the educations 8th semester

6. Teaching awards you may have received or been nominated for.

I have through my many years of teaching and supervising obtained a high level of practical experience in teaching. I am today a skilled, popular and well-liked teacher. In March 2014 I was granted the price as Teacher of the year by the Faculty of Social Science, Aalborg University [Årets Underviser på Det Samfundsvidenskabelige Fakultet], nominated by the study board of the Ma. in Criminology, and in February 2015 I was nominated for the same price by the study board of Sociology. •Mar. 2014: Granted the award as teacher of the year by the Faculty of Social Science, Aalborg University [Årets Underviser på Det Samfundsvidenskabelige Fakultet], nominated by the study board of the Ma. education in Criminology. •Feb. 2015: Nominated for teacher of the year by the Faculty of Social Science, Aalborg University nominated by the study board of Sociology.
