

THE SECOND WORKSHOP

'16+1' at 5: Central and Eastern Europe as a New Frontier of China's Multilateralism

10 September 2017

Institute of Political Science and International Relations' conference room, 2nd floor,
Jagellonian University, Jablonowskich 5, 31-114 Krakow

Programme

09: 00-09:20 Introduction

ALL

Paper Presentations (20 minutes per speaker, 10 minutes per discussant, 20 minutes for open discussion):

09:20–10:20 '16+1' platform: the European outpost of China-led regional multilateralism

Jakub Jakóbowski

Discussants: Marcin Grabowski, Jeremy Garlick

10:20–11:20 Multilateral rather than bilateral: Sub-regional cooperation of China and Central and Eastern European Countries

Lilei Song

Discussants: Marcin Kaczmarek, Jeremy Garlick

11:20–12:20 Politics of Fear and Hope: Perceptions of China as a Threat and an Opportunity in Central and Eastern Europe

Dragan Pavličević

Discussants: Xing Li, Marcin Kaczmarek

12:20–14:00 Lunch (Venue TBC)

14:00–15:00 Beyond Pragmatism: A Bourdie(s)ian Analysis of Global China Through the Case of 16+1

Anastas Vangeli

Discussants: Xing Li, Marcin Kaczmarek

16:00–17:00 The 16+1 platform and China’s CEE diplomacy: The Classic Case of the Chinese 2010s’ Foreign Policy?

Richard Turcsányi

Discussants: Marcin Grabowski, Jeremy Garlick

18:00– Dinner (Venue: TBC.)

End of the Workshop

Participants

Presenters:

Jakub Jakóbowski, Warsaw School of Economics
Dragan Pavličević, Xi’an Jiaotong – Liverpool University
Lilei Song, Tongji University
Richard Q. Turcsányi, Mendel University
Anastas Vangeli, Polish Academy of Sciences

Discussants:

Marcin Grabowski, Jagiellonian University
Marcin Kaczmarek, University of Warsaw
Xing Li, University of Aalborg
Jeremy Garlick, University of Economics Prague

Editor, Journal of Contemporary China:

Suisheng Zhao, University of Denver