Dialogue and inspiration on hybrid learning space and digital study start at AAU

Presentations and dialogue based on studies of e.g. the lockdown of AAUs physical facilities in the spring 2020.

Center for Digitally Supported Learning (CDUL) and the PBL Academy invite teachers, supervisors, and semester coordinators from across AAU to an online event, where participants can get inspiration and discuss specific challenges regarding the upcoming digital semester start.

The event is an opportunity to talk to colleagues, PBL researchers and digital learning consultants from CDUL about current challenges you face, such as 'sense of community', well-being, group formation, digital learning spaces (e.g., MS Teams) and the like. You can also share experiences and solutions with other colleagues who may benefit from your specific knowledge.

This is an invitation to dialogue and the event will be workshop based.

Date:

Tuesday the 26th of January from 14.00 to 16.00

Agenda

- Welcome and introductions by the CDUL and the PBL Academy (10 minutes)
- Staff and student perspectives on digitally supported teaching and learning at AAU in the spring of 2020 by Lykke Bertel and Jacob Blasius (15 minutes)
- Hybrid Learning Spaces by Thomas Ryberg and Mia Thyrrø Sørensen (20 minutes)
- Discussions with colleagues and digital learning consultants about specific challenges and issues that you, as a teacher at AAU, face.
  - For example:
    - The upcoming semester in a digital and online format.
    - Online group formation and starting project work
    - Well-being and social community
    - Hybrid Learning Spaces
    - (...)
- Recap and thanks for today!

The event is online in MS Teams. You will receive a meeting request by mail after completing a registration here:
