Research profile

Ida Sofie Gøtzsche Lange is an Associate Professor at the Department of Architecture, Design and Media Technology, Aalborg University (Denmark). She is a board member of the Centre for Mobilities and Urban Studies (C-MUS) and of the Association of North Jutland Planners. She holds a BA in Architecture and Urban Design, an MA in Urban Design and a PhD in Urban Design and Mobilities, entitled 'Transit City or Living City?' from 2016; an in-depth mixed methods case study of a Danish port-city. Currently she is the PA of a research project on port-city relationships (REHAB) with point of departure in 7 Danish port-cities. Her research revolves around place management and site specific qualities, and is concerned with place and mobility challenges as well as potentials for urban development of port-cities and other highly mobility affected places. Her main research interests are within Port City Relationships, Urban Design, Urban Mobilities, Planning, Place theory and Mobilities Design. Recently, she has co-edited the Routledge Handbook of Urban Mobilities (2020) and Material Mobilities (2020) and an author in the edited volume Mobilising Place Management (2021).
